

HANNELI MUSTAPARTA

The Norwegian style blogger and ex-model (above and left) always gets it right. Based between New York and Scandinavia, her casual-cool look and arresting individuality have made her one of fashion's new darlings.

ELEGANT ADORNMENTS

After hanging up her tweed suit as general manager of communications for Chanel Australia & New Zealand, local stylist Susie Stenmark has launched Stenmark Jewels. And if this statement sunray ring is anything to go by, the fine jewellery brand is destined for big things.

marie claire loves ...

Eye-catching accessories and artful accommodations are on our radar right now

A HAUTE HIDE-OUT

Fashion house Maison Martin Margiela has collaborated with hotel La Maison Champs-Élysées on the interior decoration of the luxe lodging in the heart of Paris. The delicate trompe l'oeil, traditional French panelling and natural textiles render it a redesign to remember.

BAGS OF STYLE

Diane de Maria, granddaughter of '60s painter Pierre de Maria, has revived the artist's modern works in a stylish new way. She's splashed his designs over brightly coloured doctors' bags using laser engraving. The resulting Bonnie collection has become a hit with celebrities like Sarah Jessica Parker. Find the bags locally at Easton Pearson boutiques.

A CHIC CAMPAIGN

We have been inspired by ck Calvin Klein's striking new advertising campaign. Starring the stunning Lara Stone (right) in soft, breezy neutrals, it's exactly how we want to be dressing this season.

PHOTOGRAPHED BY BIG AUSTRALIA; WWW.HANNELI.COM. TEXT BY EMILY TAYLOR